- 6. Then animal life for the lithosphere and biosphere—the earth's surface

THE CREATION: GOD AND CREATURES

GENESIS 1:20-25

Yet, the earth was still “void” of inhabitants.

- However, God had “formed it [His Creation] to be inhabited.” ISAIAH 45:18
- The first introduction of animal life was not a fragile blob of atoms, molecules or protoplasm that happened to come together in response to electrical discharges over a primeval ocean, as evolutionists believe.

THE NEPHESH

This is also the Hebrew word for “soul,” and is frequently used to refer to both the soul of man and the life of animals; this is consciousness.

- In the biblical sense, plants do not have real life or soul (or consciousness, or psyche); but both animals and men do.
- Here, God performed His second act of ex nihilo creation—creating things that did not previously exist—the living consciousness.

THE GREAT ANIMALS

The first animals specifically mentioned as the product of this act of creation were the “great whales,” or “great sea-monsters” as most translations render the Hebrew word TANNIN.

- It is significant, however, that this same word is most frequently translated “dragon,” which likely includes the dinosaurs.
- Once again the orthodox evolutionary order is not the same as the order of creation recorded here.

CREATED VERSUS MADE

It is noteworthy that the record says that God “made” (Hebrew ASAH) these land animals; whereas He was said to have “created” (Hebrew BARA) the air and sea animals.

- The reason for this apparent anomaly undoubtedly is that the act of creation—BARA (VERSE 21)—was that of “every living soul”—creating the NEPHESH not only of sea and air creatures, but all creatures.

THE PROFUSION OF LIVING FOSSILS

- 1. The famous COELACANTH fish being the best-known example.
- 2. GRAPTOLITES have been considered in the past to be index fossils for the Ordovician period, 300 million years old.
- 3. And even the mighty TRILOBITE, chief index fossil of the even more ancient Cambrian Period, 540 million years ago. All these and many more . . .

THE CAMBRIAN EXPLOSION

Evolution's Big Bang

Time magazine (December 4, 1995) heralded a new Big Bang, a big bang of biological evolution previously known as the Cambrian Explosion of Life, supposedly 540 million years ago.

- The Cambrian explosion is anything but gradual, and identifiable intermediates are totally absent.
- What conditions could have prompted this frenzy of creativity? God said bang and made the animals!
